Cheap Fares to the Centennial. EDITORS APPEAL-I have concluded to offer a few thoughts on the subject of the Centennial. I studied human nature, not from books but from man, and I am very certain that there is half a million of persons that would go to the Centennial, if they could go at reasonsble rates, that otherwise will not go, from the fact that they are not able to pay the price the railroads charge, which would be millions of meney lost to the railroads. If it is intended as a national exhibition there should be cheap facilities, so that the laboring man, farmer, soldier, and all American citizens, rich Pigeon-Roost road, was arrested upon an or poor, can go. If it is intended for the indictment found by the grand Jury, in rich, moneyed men, speculators and nobility, put the price so high the common people can't afford to go. I expected to go, but cannot afford to pay the price. I could make the trip as cheap on horse-back, and would do it if I was not too old to stand the trip. C. M. THACHER.

ness to the Lord" be any more written on the powder-box than on the cigar-box, when the contents of that powderbox are brought to such use as hiding from mortal gaze that which God created and made to look as He thought was best? What is said of the widely-spread use of to-bacco, because of its respectability, can also be said of the evil of painting and powdering. The lady that paints and powders her cheek, does not think any more harm in doing so than the gentleman does in puffling the smoke of his Havana. Why? because both evils are deemed respectable. Colonel J. A. Blair for Congress. EDITORS APPEAL-I have always found your columns open to any suggestions in the interest of your numer-ous readers, and anything affecting their welfare has ever received ready approval at your hands. Our sister State Mississippi looks to you for guidance as implicity as do the people of West Tennessee, and they have always found you willing to do battle for them. Mississippi, as you know, is girding her loins for the fall campaign, and with the view to maintain her advanced foothold won at the last election. Her people propose to take no step backward, and think it not amiss to write something n regard to the candidates for congress in Lamar's old district. There are several gentlemen of worth and ability spoken of as proper successors to the gifted Lamar, and with no wish to disparage their high claims, but acting alone in the interest of the people and the whole country, I feel bound to urge the name of Colonel John A. Blair, of Lee county, as the man fit in every sense to succeed Lamar, already distinguished above his fellows by his brilliant services in congress. There is no man in Mississippi with a purer record than Colonel Blair. It is, Douglas Democrat, he was elected from Tishominge county to the convention which passed the ordinance of secession,

Before the war a and fought even against hope itself to stay a fratricidal war, and to prevent a disruption of the government, and when the die was cast, like a true man, he determined to follow the fortunes of his people, and joined the army of Lee in Virginia, as a private, and he re-mained with that Spartan band, the heroic Second Mississippi, throughout the war, rising by meritorious service to the rank of lieutenant-colonel. His record as a soldier is above reproach. A had alike the love and confidence of his former comrades-in-arms, and after the known defeat. He has held the same MR. P. J. In the APPEAL of Sunday it is stated that H. N. Rankin was arrested at the Mississippi and Tennessee depot, while leaving on a preaching tour. I have no doubt in the world that the party or parties communicating said inormation are entirely satisfied that H. N. Rankin is good enough to preach, from the patience with which he has borne his outrages and insults without resistance for the past three years. I wish it to be distinctly remembered i do not go back on preachers if they are only qualified for the glorious work. But I was not on a preaching tour myself at the time the constable and Cash Moeby overtook me, but the next thing to it, viz: to superintend a very large Sabbath-school at our extension, and by God's help and Major M'Kay going on my bonds, I did it.
